Evening Shade is a very dark green perennial ryegrass variety. Evening Shade's dark green color extends into the fall and winter months exhibiting excellent turf color even in winter. Evening Shade has excellent cold tolerance.

Leaf texture is very refined...among the finest available. This makes Evening Shade an excellent component in blends and mixes. And, disease resistance is good, especially to red thread, crown rust and brown blight.

Since Evening Shade is naturally low growing, less mowing should be required. This advanced generation perennial ryegrass has excellent mowing qualities.
