Attractive, Dense & Durable Ryegrass

Allaire III Perennial ryegrass is the latest generation of turf type perennial ryegrasses specifically selected for its fine texture and medium dark green color to mix well with other species such as Kentucky bluegrass and Fine fescue.

Allaire III is ideal for renovating poor turf areas. In warm season climates, perennial ryegrass has become the standard for overseeding dormant bermudagrass, extending aesthetics and use year-round. Mixtures with other species, like Kentucky bluegrass, improves disease response over that of either species alone.

Allaire III is a Perennial Ryegrass seed ideal for golf course and sports turf mixtures where high traffic wear requires a resilient turf.

Allaire III

The most popular species by volume produced, perennial ryegrass is an aggressive grass that quickly germinates under varied conditions. It forms an attractive turf with excellent color, density, and wear tolerance.

Ryegrass reduces erosion, competes against weed invasion, and is highly resistant to damage from surface feeding insects when enhanced with a beneficial fungus called endophyte.

Allaire III ranks high for ease of transition – scoring in the Top 5 of fastest coverage among ryegrasses in a trial performed by North Carolina State University!

For warm weather climate mixtures and overseeding, Allaire III is a dependable performer for your customers.

KEY BENEFITS:

- Fast Coverage
- Enhances Disease Resistance
- Great Wear Tolerance
- Ideal For Seed Mixtures
